Look over your peer's poster design carefully and offer comments on the following elements:

Poem—

- | | | |
|--|-----|----|
| 1. Count the syllables for each line. Does the haiku fit the 5-7-5 pattern? | YES | NO |
| 2. Any spelling mistakes? | YES | NO |
| 3. Does the poem employ concrete imagery?
(Notice my diction here—what does “employ” connote that “contain” does not?) | YES | NO |
| 4. Does the poem employ figurative language? | YES | NO |

Comments: Does anything not make sense? Any awkward syntax? What do you like most about it?

|--|-----|----|---|---|---|
| 1. Does the poem itself cover the majority of the poster space?
(Visually, is it clearly the most important element of the poster?) | YES | NO | | | |

| 3. Does the design employ any symbolic elements (colors, images, numbers of things, etc?)
List them: | YES | NO | | | |
| 4. Score your overall impression of the design: Ineffective -----> Effective -----> Highly Effective | | | | | |
